Manufacturing Capabilities

All signs are fabricated at our San Diego plant using our unique manufacturing process. What makes our process so exceptional is that we have implemented the concepts of "Lean" manufacturing. Our "Just-In-Time" production of signs is driven by the "pull" of your unique needs, rather than being motivated by the more wasteful "push" methods employed by standard mass-production sign manufacturers. We complete your projects, without waste, to your exact specifications.

Installation & Maintenance

Our technicians are highly trained professionals with years of experience providing our customers with the highest quality installations. Signtech offers a full-service maintenance program for customers across the country with solutions designed to accommodate your needs. Our web-based Job Tracker provides online reporting so you can easily track maintenance progress at your convenience.

Design Services

Signtech's designers understand that the conditions of each site vary widely and require site-specific planning. Our designers' up-front attention to detail results in the elimination of costly re-work and ensures that our signs are made exactly to fit the needs of each location.

Site Surveys

Before we build, we research. Our success depends in large part on accurate, complete, and timely surveys. We excel by identifying the unique needs of each site while maintaining the integrity of your message and conforming to your brand.
